

Corporate

UK's largest manufacturer of large plant machinery were approached and asked if they would be interested in a trial of I sentry. They already have an extensive CCTV system installed throughout the factory and grounds with a full time security lodge and guards.

After a month long trial I sentry highlighted the following incidents:

- Heavy plant machinery being used as bumper cars – Health and safety
- Parts of machinery being dropped in a pedestrian area – Health and safety
- Company property being used for personal use - Theft
- Shift patterns – Time and attendance
- Blockage of free area's – Health and safety
- Site vehicles being driven at high speed – Health and safety
- Cars parking in No Parking areas – Security

I sentry identified situation that had been missed with the human eye and proved itself in a corporate environment.

This customer was so impressed they are now in a major rollout project with I sentry being installed at all they sites across the UK and world.

When we installed the trial our customer new they had problems with time and attendance with their staff leaving early etc. They never through we would highlight the major health and safety issues or staff theft.

I sentry showed clearly its capabilities to highlight and alert many incidents other than security – health and safety, time and attendance and theft.
